

SPECIAL EDITION

COVID-19 Online Information Session

Keeping women with gynaecological cancer informed during COVID-19

Friday 27 March, 5.00 PM AEST (Brisbane)

Chairs: Professor Andreas Obermair, Professor Monika Janda

Zoom code: <https://uqz.zoom.us/j/366141109>

The impact of COVID-19 is being felt all over the world. But how does it affect women and their families being treated for gynaecological cancer? QCGC Research has enlisted a team of Australian and international experts to present a Zoom webinar to provide gynaecological cancer patients with up-to-date information/advice on COVID-19.

Topics and guest speakers

Hopes for a COVID-19 vaccine or treatment?

Professor David Paterson
UQ Centre for Clinical Research & Royal Brisbane and Women's Hospital

Impact of COVID-19 on gynaecological cancer treatment (surgery, chemotherapy, radiation treatment)

Dr Jeffrey Goh, Medical Oncologist, ICON Cancer Centre & Royal Brisbane and Women's Hospital and Professor Andreas Obermair, Queensland Centre for Gynaecological Cancer Research

Information for patients who are currently on clinical trials

Associate Professor Philip Beale
Australia New Zealand Gynaecological Oncology Group

How do I keep physically fit during COVID-19?

Professor Sandi Hayes
Griffith University

Ways to manage mental stress

Dr Tracey Gardner
Cancer Council Queensland

Surgeons from Singapore and Italy to speak on their experiences with COVID-19, How this is affecting their daily lives and what we can learn from them.

Dr Joe Ng and Dr Allesandro Buda

We will be broadcasting via Zoom. We will be recording this session and sharing for those that cannot access Zoom or connect at that time. A link to recorded webinar will be shared after the event.